Fast Response and High-Capacity Production Enable 110 Gigabytes to be Processed in 48 Hours

Our client faced a critical discovery deadline on a contentious internal investigation. They called us on Monday, noting that by Thursday they would have to make decisions based on facts uncovered in discovery. The decisions could be life-changing for several key employees. Could we help them? Of course.

The client sent us 110 gigabytes of data to process. We filtered out all system files, date-culled the data, de-duplicated within each of the 20 custodians, and performed search-term queries across 14 of the custodians. Finally, we created a native review database for the client to review. And we did it all in 48 hours.
